

PRIVACY POLICY

OVERVIEW

To improve our service to customers and to comply with applicable privacy and data protection laws and/or regulations, ID SERVICES, its subsidiaries and affiliates ("ID SERVICES") offer this privacy policy to indicate how customer data and/or information, including personal information ("data and/or information") is collected, controlled and protected. By using our website or providing us with personal information, you acknowledge that you have read, understood and agree to be bound by this privacy policy.

COLLECTION

ID SERVICES collects your data and/or information to provide you with products and/or services, in order to operate and improve our business. Your data and/or information may be collected when you become aware of it, such as returning equipment for repair, or contacting ID SERVICES for assistance, or when you are unaware of it, such as cookies used on our website.

You do not need to provide any data and/or information to visit this website. If you wish to subscribe to certain services on this website, you may be asked to provide personally identifiable information, such as your name, address, e-mail address and other contact information.

When you browse the ID SERVICES website, the web server may automatically record and/or collect certain data and/or information such as browser, operating system, IP address, domain name, location and other related information. We may use this data and/or information to monitor web interaction, analyze trends, improve performance and investigate visitor demand in accordance with applicable privacy and data protection laws and/or regulations.

USE

ID SERVICES will use, disclose, transfer and otherwise process your data and/or information in accordance with applicable privacy and data protection laws and/or regulations. We will use your data and/or information for purposes such as (1) executing and/or processing transactions for the sale and support of our products and/or services, (2) operating and/or improving our activities, (3) /or supporting our products and/or services, and (4) sending certain promotional communications.

ID SERVICES will not disclose, provide or sell your data and/or information to unaffiliated third parties. However, we may provide this information to our subsidiaries and affiliates. We reserve the right to provide your data and/or information to our employees, subcontractors and agents to the extent necessary to enable them to perform certain services such as web hosting or maintenance services for ID SERVICES. We also reserve the right to disclose this information to third parties in the following situations: (1) comply with applicable laws and/or regulations, legal procedures or governmental requests, (2) prevent, investigate, detect or prosecute criminal offences or breaches of the technical integrity of the Website or our network, and/or (3) to protect the rights, property or safety of ID SERVICES, Website users or the public.

COOKIES

ID SERVICES may have standard technical cookies to collect certain types of your data and/or information during the period you use and/or visit our website, including by using cookies. If you choose to create your user profile, we will have cookies to store your data and/or information.

Most browsers allow you to delete, reject, delete or disable cookies and other tracking technologies on your computer, block the acceptance of cookies or receive a warning before a cookie is stored. You can configure your browser to advise you to refuse or accept the cookie when prompted.

Cookies can store information about your visit to your device, such as the language of your choice and other settings, to facilitate your next visit, for a better user experience. We use cookies for the following purposes: (1) provide various versions of pages for marketing purposes; (2) have an overview of how visitors use the website to improve its usability; (3) balance website traffic to ensure that our visitors receive a consistent and reliable service.

ACCESS & CORRECTION

If you wish to access, update, modify or delete your data and/or information that you have provided to ID SERVICES, or if you wish to stop receiving ID SERVICES materials, please contact us through the contact information at the bottom of the Policy at any time.

SECURITY

ID SERVICES will use reasonable technical and administrative measures to protect your data and/or information from accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, modification or unauthorized disclosure or access, but we cannot guarantee or ensure the security of the data and/or information against accidental or unlawful destruction, accidental loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure or access.

CONSERVATION

ID SERVICES will retain your data and/or information for as long as necessary for the purposes of collection, such as the service provided to you, and when required by, or in accordance with, applicable laws and/or regulations.
